Three orders of scrambled eggs, please.

Scramble three!

Huh?

What's up, kid?

I don't see no GREASY SPOONS here, Dad!

Ulk!

AND FINALLY..

Hello.... our name's Mitchell.

But....there must be some MISTAKE!

We oughta know our OWN NAMES!

Shhh!

But we don't allow CHILDREN!

You didn't SAY SO on the phone! And we have no place else to GO!

Well, I guess we'll have to make an exception.

Thanks!

Have a nice time. Make yourselves at home.

We will!

TAKE THAT! KAPOW! OUCH!

Folks, I'm sorry, but you'll just have to leave! Your little boy is just TOO MUCH for these older people!

This little boy taught me to swim.

ALPHABET SOUP

A
B
C
D
E
F

H
I
J
K

Each person writes down the alphabet on a piece of paper, down one side. Then you try to spot from the car, objects that will match the letter of the alphabet.

For "A" you might see an airplane. Write it down beside "A".

For "D" you might see a dog. Write it down opposite "D". (You don't have to follow the letters in alphabetical order.)

For "L" you might see a lake. Or a log. Or a locomotive.

You can play this, on and off, your whole trip, to see who can get the most objects listed in his alphabet.

Or, you could set a certain time limit, half an hour or so, and the one with the most objects listed wins.

Or, it could be the one with the first ten things listed.

Each one takes turns looking for things to write down.

SPELL-A-PLATE

License plates in some States have several letters on them, that can be made into words, like the plates shown here.

Each player takes turns, and he must work on the first license plate he sees when it is his turn.

Suppose he sees one with the letter CMD. That could be worked into the word "CoMmanD." Notice that the letters have to be used in the order they appear on the license plate.

The next player might see a plate with JB on it. That would be easy—"JoB."

If you can't make a word within a reasonable time, say two minutes, you lose your turn and get no score. For each word you do make, you get one point. Ten points wins the game.

Another game you can play with license plates.

Each player, in turn, notices the last two digits on the license plate coming toward him. Say, when it's his turn, he sees one where the last two digits are "89." He writes that down. When it's his turn next, he sees a number ending in "02." He writes down "02" under "89."

Each player, in turn, writes down ten two-digit numbers in this way. Then each adds his figures. The one with the highest total wins.

But no cheating—you can't wait for a license plate ending in high numbers—you have to take whatever comes along when it's your turn.
